COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS BY DR. E. B. BRYAN.

Did Credit to the Class and Large Crowd Present.

The class of young men and women, made so much of the graduation exercises at the Opera House last night, were given a most gratifying attention by the large crowd of friends and relatives who gathered for the occasion.

It is just now at the height of this important life, is composed of seven girls, as follows: Bertha Pauline Hoffman, Nellie Alice Baughman, Elsie Dorothy Cordes, Horst, Bertha Pauline Hoffman, Maurice Edgar Jennings, Effie Margaret Lane, Edna E. Masters, Fredericka Louise Meyer, T. Harlan Montgomery, Peter, Nell Agnes Phelan, Roeger and Claude C. Sweng. It has been one of unusual brilliancy and stands high in the estimation of the excellent corps of teachers of the High School department.

The commencement exercises opened last evening with the most pleasing of the graduates in a half hour in front of the members of the council and several invited guests. The music by the orchestra, prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. G. W. Fields, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Julius C. Peters, who won second honors in the class, spoke in a truly commendable manner. After a few words of welcome in the words of Shakespeare "Sir, you are very welcome to our house,—It must appear in other ways than words," he launched into the discussion of the affirmative side of the subject "Resolved, That Private Ownership is better than Municipal Ownership." His discussion was in part as follows:

"The first objection is that municipal ownership is unfair to private owners. Unless it is kept very strictly within the bounds of public utilities, there is an unwarrantable encroachment upon private interests and a destructive competition is established. If private enterprise and capital develop an industry, what right has a city to step in, and buy it?"

A municipality would have to go in to debt to own plants of its own. There is the tendency toward over indebtedness. Municipal ownership is usually accompanied by official indifference, while private corporations have a continuity of purpose and policy, lacking, except in theory, in municipal corporations. The latter would outstrip the former in cheapness but would be wanting in efficiency of service. There is a possibility that the people's demand for low rates would cause a deficit, leading to high taxes.

Besides the risk of municipal funds involved by city ownership, there are also great opportunities for graft, would lose their positions. The merit laws prevents this in Chicago and could be established to prevent it in all other cities. Every citizen would have the right to vote concerning municipal plants and so might be called stock holders in them. There would be no strikes under municipal ownership, because the men would know that they could get what they wanted, if it was just, by voting for it. By municipal ownership the influence of the large corporations over the city elections would be removed."

He then spoke a few words in behalf of the class of 1905, thanking all who have helped them to reach this point in their lives when their apprenticeship closes and they must depend upon themselves and fight their own battles in life. He thanked all teachers and friends through whose efforts and kindness this culmination was attained.

E. A. Remy in fitting words introduced the speaker of the evening, Prof. E. B. Bryan, President-elect of Franklin College. Mr. Bryan is a strong speaker and his address was straight from his heart after years of devotion to college and university work and his words were most certainly helpful to the members of the graduating class, as well as pleasing to the large audience. Mr. Bryan took for the theme of his address the lofty thought of "The Man and His Work."

An abbreviated account of his address is as follows: "A large part of the people of the world out of employment are people who do not want employment. As soon as interest in and desire for work comes to the young man or woman, then ability to do that particular thing will result. The thing that has loomed up before me is the general inefficiency of the people, who are working at the world's work. There is an opportunity for every man or woman who wants employment. Every place is the place; every crowd is the crowd. The largest question in the world is not that of chance. To the young people the largest question is the question of his own size, the question of his own integrity, the question of his preparation and the question of his faithfulness. And yet a large percent of the people in the world do not measure up to their own capabilities. A large part of the world's work is done in a poor, inefficient manner."

It is very, very hard to find men large enough, strong enough, faithful enough to do the work waiting for strong men. It is one of the greatest questions of administrative men to get men who are competent to do work for them. Look for failure if you are afraid that your associates will loom up above you, or overshadow you. On the other hand large, strong associates should be desired. The question should be "Can I expand?" Is there elasticity enough in me to fill the place, and live up to the opportunity offered me?

It is appalling to think that very many of the school teachers are ninety, eighty and seventy per cent. teachers. They are faithful, but not enough; they are zealous, but not enough; they are effectual, but not enough. If this is true in such a high profession as this, what will it be in other professions?

The inefficient work is illustrated every day. Why is this true? Two reasons are held. First, there are so many men and women working at things they ought not to be trying to do, things to which they are not called and are misfit. For instance, one may be a lawyer, his shingle says so at least, when he would be a great success on a farm. One may be a failure in medicine, wretched, no practice, and isn't happy, and would be successful at the carpenter's or blacksmith's trade. There may be a failure in the school room, because the teacher never really felt called to hearts and lives. Some men may be in business, in which they are not at home or comfortable, and which is not their game of life. Again some may be failing on the farm, who would be succeeding in a profession. This is due to the fact that many boys and girls just drift into doing a thing to which they are really not inclined. They stay misfits and develop failures. One reason that they are doing this is that parents, teachers and friends fail to see the chance to help the young man or the young woman to discover himself. The parent has missed his chance if he feels that his duty to his children is done when they are fed, clothed and given an opportunity to go to public schools. If the teacher thinks that she has done her duty when she reaches school on time, keeps herself and her room tidy and teaches the lesson, she has missed a great opportunity to help a pupil discover himself. It is strange how few parents ever take advantage of the chance to sit down with the child and help him to find out how his life is inclined and what he would like to do and make of himself. It is not true that the president of a college or a university is an educational statesman and not a father confessor. No! Such presidents should be men who are father confessors and unless they are such they will not be great teachers and administrators. There is a great benefit that comes from personal touch. I feel sorry for a teacher who has not had vision and not helped a pupil to discover what he does like and to encourage him.

Young men find women, so far as choosing an occupation, ought to be allowed, after inclining their heads and hearts to right ideals, to do what they want to do. In God's work one piece of work is as honorable as another. The men who helped in constructing the building in which we are now protected, may have been important factors in this work tonight. All phases of work planned by our Maker are equally respectable and honorable. There are so many false ideals. A great many young men in universities go prepared to teach when they have no longing for teaching, for children or to instruct, and admit it candidly, and still they do it. Sometimes envy is the reason for so doing. One boy teaches school because his cousin does. Another is a lawyer because his neighbor's son is a lawyer. Young men are induced by these ideals by parents and friends to do something towards which they are not inclined. Failure is sure to be the result.

Preparation is another essential thing for success. One can not succeed in what they want to do unless they prepare to do that thing. A story is told of one who had brains, but had no corner on brains, who had health but had no corner on it, who had polish, but that was not all. This was the secret of his success. He looked forward to the thing he wanted to do and was wise enough to prepare himself well to do that thing. He did work so well that he has not even had his picture in the magazines. This seems paradoxical, but true. There are magnificent opportunities on every hand for every boy to receive high school training. Many of the high schools have equipments as good as colleges. With bicycles and interurbans there is now no excuse for any one not coming to the point of graduation from the high schools. And there is a great increase of pupils graduating from public schools. Even from small country town schools every year pupils graduate by the dozens and scores. The fine opportunity for young people to prepare themselves is very evident. There is absolutely no excuse for anyone, not handicapped by poor health or having some one dependent on them, to miss getting an education. I do not say that every one should go to college. Some are at college who would be better off if they were at home and put to doing something. The boy with his trousers rolled up three or four rolls, wearing a postage stamp on his head for a cap, and assuming a swaggering gait, ought to be sent home and put to the anvil and probably be given the pleasure of counting ties on his way home. I do not say that every boy and girl should go to college. I say that there is no excuse for everyone ready and worth it not receiving an education.

Another important thing to remember is that the opportunity to acquire mental training should not be set aside and the time put off. Regrets will surely follow. Examples are given of persons who put off the time to take up college work and were almost failures in life, accomplishing nothing in any one line. At the present time there are countless ways in which boys and girls can work their way through schools. One young lady was servant in the home of a college president and also went to school and was not only the best servant but the best student in the class. She was charming as a dish washer and a charming young lady in society. She was afterwards given an excellent position as instructor in a college of high standing. Similar examples are numerous.

I have quit having visions. Years ago I saw vaguely, dimly. Now I see opportunities just as plainly as the children of Israel saw the promised land after years of wandering and anxiety. To the class I say that it remains for you to show that you are strong enough, wise enough and good enough to reach out and possess this land of promise.

The presentation of diplomas was made with appropriate words by Supt. H. C. Montgomery. As their names were called each member of the class rose and received the reward and mark of merit of many years of happy work to acquire this degree of proficiency. Parents, relatives and friends were proud to be present at this time and were glad in their thoughts that fifteen graduates were just at the end of this romance of existence.

As music filled the auditorium with its beautiful volume, the reception on the stage was attended by all present. Congratulations were offered to the graduates and Prof. Bryan was given introductions to our people. The members of the coming Senior class made themselves known by lusty yells, showing their enthusiasm and delight in the anticipation of the time when they too shall be graduates of the Seymour Shields High School.

The annual alumni reception and banquet will be held this evening at the Masonic Temple, followed by a dance in the Society Hall.

Big Banking House Falls.

Boston, Mass., May 26.—Seventy-one banks and trust companies, most of them in Massachusetts, but several located in various parts of the country, are among the creditors of the banking firm of Burnett, Cummings & Co., 43 Milk street, this city, which has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States district court, with liabilities placed at $1,714,368. The assets are stated to be uncertain.

Result of Petty Feud.

Elkhart, Ind., May 26.—Clarence Coats, twenty-four years old, of Goschen, is in a critical condition at the Clark hospital because of an assault by Don Kirkendahl, twenty-eight years old, of Kosciusko county, who has fled. Both were employed at the Lake Shore roundhouse and had blood existed because Kirkendahl supposed that Coats was the man who sent him an ugly valentine last February. When Coats was ordered to assist Kirkendahl in the foreman he asked to be excused, and later Kirkendahl assaulted him.

Jobs for College Boys.

Topeka, Kan., May 26.—The farmers of Kansas want eastern college students to come here this summer and help them harvest the great wheat crop. Letters are pouring in to employment bureaus asking for college boys. Last year the best harvesters came from New York and New England. The wheat farmers say these young men come to Kansas to develop their muscles.

Death Eludes Her.

Lebanon, Ind., May 26.—Mrs. Iva Harlan of this county, who attempted suicide while despondent over ill health, is still living, although she swallowed pills green before firing several shots into her body, and also used a rope, which broke under her weight.

Two Squirrels Proved Costly.

New Castle, Ind., May 26.—John Gowdy, farmer, indicted for violating the law with reference to killing squirrels, has been fined $40.45. Mr. Gowdy had a man in his employ very ill, and he shot two squirrels for the purpose of making broth for the patient.

SSS FOR THE BLOOD

"S. S. S. for the blood" has grown to be a household saying. When the blood is out of order, or needs treatment from any cause, this great remedy is the first thought of and used by thousands of people all over the country, because it is superior to all other blood purifiers. It is a purely vegetable remedy, and while it penetrates the circulation and forces out all poison and morbid matter, it also builds up the entire system by its fine tonic effect. During the winter months the natural avenues of bodily waste have become dull and weak and failed to perform their full duty, the blood has been sluggish and an extra amount of poisons and waste matters have accumulated in the system and been absorbed by it. With the coming of Spring and warm weather the blood is aroused and stirred to quicker action and in its effort to throw off these acids and poisons the skin suffers. Boils, pimples, blotches, rashes and eruptions break out and continue until the blood is cleansed and made pure. S. S. S. is the ideal remedy for this condition; it clears the blood of all impurities, makes it rich and strong and these skin troubles pass away. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all other diseases of the blood are cured by S. S. S. Book on the blood and any advice desired, free of charge.

I was suffering from impure blood and a general run-down condition of the system. I had no appetite, was losing flesh, and an all-gone tired feeling that made me miserable. I began the use of S. S. S. and my blood was restored to its normal, healthy condition. My appetite returned, I increased in weight, that "tired feeling" left and I was again myself.

Better Class of Jews in Warsaw Rise Against Disreputable Class.

Warsaw, May 26.—The Jewish disturbances are still in progress. Eight persons have already been killed and 100 wounded, nineteen seriously. The damage to property has been considerable. There has been no pillaging, but the destruction of the furniture in the various houses has been absolute.

The mob, armed with axes, smashed the doors and windows and brought the furniture out on the streets, where they broke it into small pieces. The owners of the furniture, in attempting to defend their belongings, were attacked, beaten and even killed. Knives and revolvers were used freely and many persons were terribly injured.

The authorities took no steps to prevent the riots until late last night, when the Cossacks fired on the crowds at two points, wounding four persons. The correspondent of the Associated Press spent several hours in the disturbed district, but did not see a single active policeman. Patrols occasionally appeared, but they regarded the proceedings as merely spectators.

The character of the disturbances is unprecedented. The whole affair is a conflict between the respectable Jewish Socialist classes and the disreputable Jewish element. There are conflicting stories as to the origin of the trouble. One report is to the effect that the respectable Jews, tired of hearing the members of their race called keepers of disorderly houses, thieves and usurers and other opprobrious names, resolved, as the police were receiving bribes for protecting disreputable houses and persons, to take the matter into their own hands. Another report has it that Jewish youths, in the guise of members of the band, were levying blackmail upon shopkeepers, thus enraging the Socialists. In any case, Socialists seemingly determined on a crusade against the undesirable persons of their own race, with the result that crowds of men and boys are now systematically robbing the disreputable houses.

Extraordinary scenes were witnessed late last night when the crowds visited the better section of the city and demolished apartments filled with costly effects. Wardrobes, pianos and mirrors were thrown out of the windows. The mob in the streets left open spaces for the falling articles and then completed the work of destruction. In one place a quantity of valuable jewelry was taken out and deliberately smashed with stones.

The whole affair was carefully organized. The leaders were supplied with the addresses of the owners of disreputable houses, and scarcely a single resort in Warsaw escaped destruction.

Torn by Savage Bulldog.

Vincennes, Ind., May 26.—While teasing a bulldog with a stick Fay Thorne, the nine-year-old daughter of T. T. Thorne, a merchant at Decker, was attacked by the brute and terribly lacerated. Her death is momentarily expected. The dog has been killed.

Cheyenne, Wyo., May 26.—Judge Scott has overruled the motion for new trial of Colonel W. F. Cody's divorce suit case. The case will go to the supreme court on appeal.

Newark, O., May 26.—Mrs. Howard Nichols, of Pataskala, broke an egg and was surprised to find a needle in the yolk. The needle was slightly rusted.

HOW TO HOLD A HUSBAND.

The best known guide to married happiness is to hold the husband as you won the lover—by cheerfulness of disposition, patience and keeping your youthful looks. Of course a great many women are handicapped by those ills to which women are heir. The constantly recurring troubles which afflict her are apt to cause a sour disposition, nervousness and a belated mind.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, the specialist in woman's diseases, of Buffalo, N. Y., after a long experience in treating such diseases, found that certain roots and herbs made into a liquid extract, would help the majority of women. Thousands of women have testified to its merits, and it is put up in shape to be easily procured and used by all medicine dealers. This is sold by all medicine dealers. A potent faith has Dr. Pierce in its merits that he offers $500 reward for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Profluvium, or Falling of the Womb, which he cannot cure. All he asks is a fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure.

Mrs. T. Dolan, of Madrid, Perkins Co., Neb., writes: "I was cured of painful periods by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and his Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla. I think Dr. Pierce's medicines the best in the world."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 2 one-cent stamps for the paper-covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

AFTER more than two years of busy preparation, the Lewis and Clark Exposition stands ready to open. At 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, June 1, President Roosevelt will press a gold entrenchment key at his office in the White House, which will set in motion the machinery of the Exposition, more than 3,000 miles away. But as the personal and official representative of the President at the opening exercises, Vice President Fairbanks will be present at Portland and will make the principal address of the day. Honors accorded him will be equal to those which would be bestowed upon Mr. Roosevelt were the latter able to be present.

June Success.

Among the many good things in "Success Magazine" for June, it seems almost invidious to select any particular article for special mention. Cleveland Moffett continues his articles on "The Shameful Misuse of Wealth" and the current installment which deals with the spirit of discontent created by the ostentatious display of the idle rich, should be read and digested by all right thinking Americans. William Jennings Bryan tells in his terse way "What Government Ownership Means." President Castro, of Venezuela, contributes an article on "My Idea of World Peace." Ladies cannot help being interested in the articles on dress; in fact, the best works of the best writers have been secured for the home department.

WEAVER IS FIRM

Philadelphia's Mayor Gives Another Instance of His Courage.

HE BOUNCES DIRECTORS

Heads of Departments Reinstated Under Injunction Proceedings Are Summarily Ejected.

Great Gas Fight is Growing in Intensity and Rumors Fly Thick and Fast.

Philadelphia, May 26.—The bitter feeling that has been engendered by the gas lease fight was intensified when Mayor Weaver practically ejected from the office of the departments of public safety and public works his two former directors and again installed the men appointed by him on Tuesday night. The action of the mayor was the most sensational move that he has yet made. The moment the news flashed through the great city building that the old directors were out and the new men in, rumors flew thick and fast that a wholesale dismissal of bureau chiefs and other officials was about to occur. The news created considerable excitement in the city hall and on the political "Rinko" and nearly all that were interested assembled in the vicinity of the mayor's office to learn of the next move. This came quickly but from an unexpected quarter—the state supreme court. While the mayor was ordering his old directors out of their offices, his attorneys appeared in the supreme court and obtained special superedeas suspending the temporary injunction granted to the old directors by the county court. Another dramatic incident was the great ovation given Mayor Weaver by several thousand persons on his way from the city hall to the Union League for lunch. It was a sensational demonstration and was looked upon by those opposed to the lease as an indication of the trend of popular sentiment.

In the thick of the fight came the story, but from where no one appears to know, that the mayor is to be impeached. For what particular offense was not clearly defined. One rumor had it that he would be brought before the bar of the city councils for his conduct of an election fraud case while he was district attorney, and another rumor had it that he was to be made to answer for some alleged lapse of duty while in his present position. All attempts to confirm the impeachment rumor failed, but at the same time no one could be induced to deny them. The leaders of the organization were silent on the impeachment story, and on all proposed plans for the future. The organization leaders say they will continue to "stand pat" on the gas lease and that their ranks are solid along the line. On the other hand Mayor Weaver announced that he had assurances that the vote in both council chambers when his veto is considered will be changed materially from the vote taken last week. The situation is daily growing more tense. In all sections of the city the reform organizations and the newspapers have aroused citizens to take a hand in the fight. The councilmen who favor the gas lease are having a hard time of it. They are being swamped with protests, and delegations of neighbors are calling on them at their homes or places of business or are holding them up on the streets. Many of them reply that they are for the lease so long as the "peerless leader," as Commissioner Durham is affectionately called by the organization, is for it.

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE

HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health Is the Great Source of the Power to Inspire and Encourage—All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life."

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, whites, irregularities or the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: "Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."—Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

INTERESTING CONTEST

Fight for Mayoralty Nomination at Indianapolis Grows Warm.

Indianapolis, May 26.—Public interest here was aroused today by statements issued by the two Republican mayoralty candidates and Chairman Logsdon. The latter ridiculed the claims of Bookwalter that he took unfair advantage in making up the election boards. Logsdon says there is not an office within the gift of the mayor he would accept and that Bookwalter recently came to his office and offered him the chairmanship of the board of works if he would support him. Bookwalter's statement parades the fact that Logsdon, Charles N. Elliott, Harold McGraw and Harry B. Gates, his former lieutenants, against whom there was a revolt two years ago, are now supporting Stalnaker. He referred to them as sponsors and vouchers for Stalnaker's campaign. He predicted that he will elect a majority of the committeemen and would get three-fourths but for sharp practices of Logsdon. He also declared that Logsdon told him personally that he has an agreement if Stalnaker is elected he shall control the city patronage. The significant feature of Bookwalter's statement is that he is attempting to make capital for himself out of the fact that his once most unpopular lieutenants are for Stalnaker.

As a fresh evidence of the unwillingness of the steam roads to concede a point to their rivals, the interurbans, one of the big steam lines has offered to sell tickets for one fare good for two trips for one person or one trip for two. This is the only plan it can take to meet the cheaper rates of the interurbans, as the steam roads have an ironclad traffic agreement as to rates. The same plan was tried, however, by one of the steam roads that was paralleled to the gas belt by an interurban. At first the proposition looked attractive, but it did not interfere much with the interurban traffic. It is said that the interurbans have taken at least three-fourths of the local traffic of the steam roads. As an evidence that they are now arranging to handle long distance travel, some of the big Eastern financial syndicates are trying to buy up lines in this state and consolidate them.

Governor Hanly has succeeded in attracting more favorable attention to his administration by a speech he made to the graduating class at Greenfield. He spoke of the people who are writing to him for the good of their community but who fail to sign their names to their communications. He said that in the same class are the citizens who write about the flagrant violations of the laws about them and close by urging him to regard the communication as confidential and not to mention them in connection with reform. "God save Indiana from her confidential citizenship," was the characteristic remark of the governor. The latter's speeches are attracting greater attention than ever, and he is deluged with invitations to come and deliver addresses.

GOT NO RECOUNT

Court at Bedford Refuses to Interfere in Primary Contest.

MUST ABIDE BY COUNT

Defeated Candidate for Mayoralty Nomination Wanted Forty-Three Votes Accounted For.

Judge Wilson Held That He Had No Power to Grant Such a Request.

Bedford, Ind., May 26.—The contest case for a recount of the votes cast at the Republican primary for the nomination of a mayor of Bedford, asked for by O. P. M. Davis, the defeated candidate, was up before Judge Wilson for a hearing. He refused to grant an order for a recount on the grounds that the statute under which the action was brought by Davis' attorney had no application to any election held whether general or primary, and that he had no power to grant such a request.

The throwing out of forty-three ballots claimed to have been mutilated caused dissatisfaction, Davis claiming that had these been counted he would have been elected.

LAW SHUTS OUT SALOONS

Indiana Towns May Set Aside Residence District Free From Liquor.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 26.—The liquor interests in the state have only now begun to appreciate the full effect of a provision of the new cities and towns law, which permits a city council to preserve a residence section from saloons. Under the old laws remonstrances signed by property owners were required, and usually these were hard to obtain. The Terre Haute council has just set aside a section of the city which contains about one-fifth the area within the city limits. The ordinance came before the council with no advance publicity and was passed with only one negative vote. The new law stipulates that the possession of a city or county liquor license cannot be accepted as a defense in a prosecution for violation of the ordinance.

Saved by New Law.

Noblesville, Ind., May 26.—Amos Leakey was to have been tried in the circuit court at Tipton on the charge of selling his vote. After the jury had been empaneled and everything was ready for the introduction of testimony it was discovered by the attorneys for the defendant that the last legislature had come to the rescue of Leakey and changed the law so that he could not be prosecuted under the indictment hanging over him. Judge Elliott ordered the defendant released from custody and dismissed the case. It was charged that Leakey had taken money from the Democrats at the last election.

Doctor's Automobile Stolen.

Indianapolis, May 26.—An automobile belonging to Dr. Henry Jameson was stolen from the Ohio street side of the Newton claypool building, and every policeman in the city has been instructed to keep a sharp lookout for the machine. The doctor left his machine unguarded while he was in the building. He was absent but a short time, but when he returned it was gone. So far the police have received no clue which may lead to the identity of the thieves.

Education Has Its Victories.

Indianapolis, May 26.—Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the state board of health, has compiled statistics showing the gradual decrease in the typhoid fever death rate for Indiana in the last five years. In 1900 the rate was 57.2; 1901, 47.6; 1902, 48.3; 1903, 40.2; and 1904, 38.1. "We have sent circulars and letters from one end of this state to the other," said Dr. Hurty today, "and it is small wonder that we get some appreciable results."

Red Austin Sentenced.

South Bend, Ind., May 26.—After having bunkoed persons in many states with impunity, Patrick H. Davis, alias "Red Austin," alias Thomas Edward Clark, was convicted here of swindling Henry Crofoot of Mishawaka out of $5,000. He was sentenced to prison for from two to fourteen years.

Marion's Fine New Jail.

Marion, Ind., May 26.—The new Grant county jail, which cost $125,000, has been completed and Sheriff Mills has issued an invitation for all Grant county residents "to go to jail," he having decided to hold open house next Saturday and Sunday. The jail is one of the finest in the West.

Nitroglycerine Let Go.

Muncie, Ind., May 26.—A report from DeSoto, six miles north of here, says a wagon load of nitroglycerine driven by Lee Firmin, aged thirty years, of Lima, O., for the Independent Torpedo company here, blew up, killing the team and blowing Firmin's head almost off.

Good Roads Movement Popular.

Greensburg, Ind., May 26.—By a majority of 170 the proposition to build thirty-one miles of gravel roads in Adams and Clinton townships has prevailed. Bids will be called for at once.

STRIKERS IN COURT

President of Teamsters' Union Wins His Contention.

Chicago, May 26.—Cornelius P. Shea, president of the International Teamsters' union, has been upheld by Judge Kohlsaat of the federal court in his refusal to answer questions before Master in Chancery Sherman, which might tend to incriminate him. Shea is now under indictment in the criminal court, and Judge Kohlsaat declared that answers to some of the questions put to him might prejudice the hearing of his case.

In the same decision which excused Shea the court ruled that Bernard Mulligan, president of the Express Drivers' union, and John Donohue, a member of the same union, had refused to answer questions which could not in any way connect them with any criminal proceedings, and they were therefore in contempt of court. He sentenced both men to jail, but allowed them to remain in nominal custody in the hands of United States Marshal Ames for five days in order that their attorneys may perfect a review on habeas corpus proceedings before another federal judge. The men will be held in a hotel for the five days in charge of two deputy marshals.

The strike has not spread to any great extent, and there is practically no disorder. A number of the lumber firms made a few deliveries, but did not attempt anything like their normal amount of business. For the first time since the commencement of the strike a large number of coal wagons handled by colored teamsters passed through the downtown streets without police protection. None of them was molested in any way. The large State street stores also made deliveries, going even into the outskirts of the city without guards, and no trouble was experienced.

Mayor Dunne and Chief of Police O'Neill have not met with the response expected when they called for 1,000 volunteers for additional policemen. Not over 100 men responded, and only three-quarters of these proved acceptable.

In the lumber districts several concerns when offered police protection refused to accept it, saying that it was not possible for them to make deliveries unless their wagons were guarded by soldiers. Chief of Police O'Neill replied that he would not force officers on them and that they could wait for soldiers if they so desired, but that he would cause their yards and the territory around them to be patrolled by his officers.

There is no apparent prospect in any direction of a settlement of the strike. The express companies absolutely refuse to recede in the slightest degree from their declaration that none of their old men will be re-employed, and no move looking toward a settlement has been started in any other direction.

POCKET-BOOK LOST.

Redding Township Farmer Has An Unfortunate Experience.

William Swengel, a farmer residing near Reddington, attended the commencement exercises at the Opera House last evening, his son Claude being among the graduates. Just after he had come out from the house he missed his pocket-book. An animated search was made, but no clue to the whereabouts of the pocket-book was found. Mr. Swengel went to Crane's livery stable and got his horse and buggy and started for home. While on the way home he picked up a pocket-book on the seat of the buggy. He at first thought that it was the one he had lost, even though he could not account for the fact of its being in the buggy, when he had used it several times in the stores here after leaving the rig. This pocket-book was filled with common paper, while the one lost contained $32 in money and some notes amounting to about $100. The disappearance of the pocket-book is certainly somewhat of a mystery.

SIR HENRY MORGAN,
BUCCANEER

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY,
Author of "The Southerners," "For Love of Country," "The Grip of Honor," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY

Again Morgan put Hornigold in charge of the maneuvering of the ship, and again that old worthy chose to handle the spokes himself. There was a brief conversation between them, and then the English captain ran forward on the forecastle. The ships were very near now. In a moment or two they would pass each other in parallel courses, though in opposite directions, and their broadsides would bear. But when the Mary Rose was about a cable's length from the Spanish frigate the astonished don heard a sharp command ring out from the approaching English ship, after which she made a wide sweep and came driving straight at him at a furious speed. The English captain intended to run him down! There was to be no passage along his broadside. The other was upon him! The cutwater of the onrushing ship loomed up before him tremendously. Instantly all was confusion on the Spanish ship. The steersman lost his head and without orders put his helm up sharply. Some one cut the sheet of the after sail on the huge lateen yard, and the frigate went whirling around on her heel like a top in a violent and fatal as well as vain effort to get out of the road.

It was a most foolish maneuver, for close at hand on the lee side of her the galleon came lumbering along. Her captain, too, had seen the peril and had elected to meet it by backing under his consort's stern, but he was too near, and the other ship fell off and was swept to leeward too rapidly. His own ship, cumbersome and unwieldy, as they always were, was slow in answering the helm. The frigate and galleon came together with a terrific crash. The shock carried away the fore topmast of the frigate, which fell across the head yards of the galleon. The two ships were instantly locked together. They swung drifting and helpless in the tossing waters.

Morgan had counted upon this very catastrophe. A twist of the helm, a touch of the braces, and the prow of the Mary Rose swung to windward. As her batteries bore she hurried her messengers of death into the crowded masses on the Spanish ships. Although dismayed by the collision, the gunners on the frigate made a spirited reply with a discharge which at such close range did much execution.

Unfortunately for her, the Mary Rose had rushed so close to the two entangled ships that it was impossible for her to escape hitting them. The English captain would have given anything if he could have gone free of the mass, for he could have passed under the stern of the two helpless ships, raked them and probably would have had them at his mercy, but his dash at them had been an earnest one, and in order to carry out his plan successfully he had been forced to throw his ship right upon them. Therefore, though the helm was shifted and the braces hauled in an effort to get clear, and though the ship under Morgan's conning and Hornigold's steering was handled as few ships have ever been handled, and though it was one of the speediest and most weatherly of vessels, they could not entirely swing her clear. The stern of the frigate crashed against the stern of the nearest Spanish ship drifting frantically to leeward.

The Spanish captain, mortified and humiliated beyond expression by the mishap, instantly realized that this contact presented them with a possibility of retrieving themselves. Before the ships could be separated grappling irons were thrown, and in a second the three were locked in a close embrace. Morgan had anticipated this situation also, although he had hoped to avoid it, and had prepared for it. As the two ships became fast the high poop and rail of the Spaniard were black with iron capped men. They swarmed over on the lower poop and quarter deck of the Mary Rose in a dense mass. The small arms on both sides had been discharged a moment before, and there had been no time to reload. The remainder of the engagement to all intents and purposes would be fought with the cold steel.

The advantage was now with the Spaniards, whose force outnumbered the pirates two or three to one. Surprising as it was to the old buccaners and the bolder spirits among his crew, whose blood was up sufficiently to enable them to long for the onset, Morgan had run to the waist of the ship when he saw the inevitable collision and had called all hands from the poop and quarter. The Mary Rose was provided with an elevated quarter deck and above that a high poop. Massing his men in the gangways just forward of the mainmast and on the forecastle itself, with the hardest spirits in the front line and Morgan himself in advance of all, sword in hand, the two parties contemplated each other for a little space just before joining in the onset.

The poop and quarter deck were crowded so thick with Spanish soldiers and sailors that room could scarcely be found for the increasing procession, for, anxious to be in at the death, the men of the galleon clinging to the frigate ran across and joined their comrades. Here were trained and veteran soldiers in overwhelming numbers, with the advantage of position in that they fought from above down, to oppose which Morgan had his motley crew behind him.

"Yield, you dastardly villain!" shouted the captain of the Spanish frigate, who was in the fore of his men.

"Shall I have good quarter?" cried Morgan.

A low growl ran through the ranks of the buccaners at this question. Yet the rapscallions among the crew back of him instantly took up the cry.

"Quarter! Quarter! We surrender! We strike! For heaven's sake!"

"Silence!" roared Morgan, an order which was enforced by the officers and veterans by force blows with pistol butts, hilts of swords and even naked fists. "I would hear the answer of the Spanish captain."

"We give no quarter to pirates and murderers!" the other shouted.

"That's what I thought," said Morgan triumphantly, and as he spoke he drew from his pocket a silver whistle like a boatswain's call. He blew it sharply before the wondering men.

At that instant Teach, followed by the few men who had remained below in the powder division, came running up to Morgan from the hatchway between the two forces.

"Is't done?" cried the captain.

"Aye, sir, in another!"

"Forward, gentlemen!" shouted the Spanish captain, dropping from the quarter deck to the main deck. "God and St. Jago! Have at them!"

Before he had taken two steps the terrific roar of a deafening explosion came to the startled buccaners out of the blast of flame and smoke, in the midst of which could be heard shrieks and groans of the most terrible anguish. Teach had connected the powder with the fuse, and when he had heard the sound of Morgan's whistle, the agreed signal, he had ignited it and blown up the stern of the frigate.

The Spaniards were hurled in every direction. So powerful was the concussion that the front ranks of the buccaners were also thrown down by it. Morgan happened to fall by the side of the Spanish captain, and the latter, though badly wounded, with determined and heroic valor raised himself on his arm and strove to kill the buccaneer. But the faithful Carib, who

Burden

There are times when life seems a burden—when you are tired, worn-out, have dull pains in the head and a continual feeling of uneasiness. You have no appetite, and your digestion is poor; your sleep broken, and you get no rest. Little annoyances seem great mountains of trouble, and you are blue, melancholy and given over to gloomy forebodings. This means low vitality—exhausted brain nerves. For this condition Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a specific; it is a food for the nerves. It builds up the nervous system, and restores lost energy. Try it to-day and see if your sleep is not sound and refreshing, and the morrow brighter and more hopeful.

"I am glad to announce that I have recovered my health, as far as my advanced age will permit, as I am 32 years old. My case was very bad; my nerves were all shattered. I suffered much pain and coldness; was so weak and felt so sad and lonely and heart-broken. When I commenced taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine I was completely prostrated. I have taken the Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, and they cured me."

MRS. E. C. BAWLBY, Waterloo, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that your first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

A woman's back has many aches and pains. Most time 'tis the kidneys' fault. Backache is really kidney ache; That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it. Many Seymour women know this. Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. S. A. Gibson, of 308 east Second street, says: "As far as my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills is concerned I can highly recommend them. I was troubled with pains over the loins and my back was weak and lame. I also had depressing headaches, pains in the back of my neck, was nervous and restless nights, and morning felt more exhausted than when I went to bed. Doan's Kidney Pills sold by Mr. Milhous the druggist, cured me of all these symptoms. I found them very easy to take and they caused no inconvenience while their quick and positive action gratified me highly."

Bowling Green, O., May 26.—Dr. Alexander Green has made a confession in the presence of witnesses that he had killed Mrs. Ella Tippitt at Weston because she refused to marry him, and that he had then attempted to kill himself. He first claimed the shooting was accidental. A charge of first degree murder will now be filed against him.

Apparently Confirms Suspicion.

Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison (Kan.) Globe: "Joe Tack, a well known engineer, running on the Missouri Pacific between Wichita and Kansas, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in this office today, we asked him about it. He says he had terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Sold by A. J. Pellens and W. F. Peter Drug Co.

While Admiralty Has Heard Nothing News of a Battle is Expected.

London Has Heard Nothing.

London, May 26.—No news has reached London regarding the movements of the rival Russian and Japanese fleets or in any way confirmatory of the rumor from Manila that the fleets had met south of Formosa and that the Japs had been defeated. The news that Rojstevsky's squadrons had passed Formosa served to harden insurance rates at Lloyds.

Old Warriors at Outs.

St. Petersburg, May 26.—The report that General Kuropatkin would return to his old position as commander-in-chief has been considered impossible for some time on account of mutual recriminations between Kuropatkin and General Linevitch, but the war office says that Linevitch has not demanded his recall. Kuropatkin's health undoubtedly is much shattered and General Zaroubalet is expected to succeed him as commander of the first Manchurian army, although he has not yet been appointed.

Japs Reconnoiter in Force.

Gunshu Pass, May 26.—A squadron of Japanese cavalry which has been reconnoitering deep into the Russian rear, encountered and defeated a small detachment of Russians northwest of Gunshu Pass, twelve miles from the railroad, on May 22, and on the following day penetrated almost to the station of Izanlatun, twenty miles north of Gunshu Pass. The appearance of the Japanese so far from their base is taken as an intimation of their desire for information preliminary to turning this flank.

RUNAWAY CAR

Causes Deadly Trolley Collision at Baltimore.

Baltimore, May 26.—William Stembler is dead and thirty-five persons are injured as a result of the collision of two trolley cars returning from Westport, a suburban resort center near here, early this morning. Several others of the victims of the accident are expected to die. The last car but one had started for the city, stopping at the Western Maryland railroad crossing while the conductor made certain that no trains were approaching. The railroad crossing is at the bottom of a steep grade and down this the last car for the city was approaching when the brakes failed to act. The runaway car dashed into the waiting car with terrific impact.

Mussulmans Attack Christians.

Cettinje, Montenegro, May 26.—Fighting has been in progress for three days between Mussulmans and Christians in the villages of Baritz and Krimzine in the district of Tashlidze, Albania, and at Kosova, Albania, the Montenegrin frontier. It is reported that a number of men have been killed or wounded. The fighting continues, the troops are powerless to restore order, and reinforcements have been sent to the scenes of the disturbances. The Mussulmans suddenly and unexpectedly attacked the Christians.
